Exploring our exams: a guide to our Sample Assessment
Material

Introduction

This is Sample Assessment Material (SAM) which has been produced for the qualification Cambridge OCR Level 1/Level 2 Cambridge National in Enterprise and Marketing.

The SAM is an example exam paper that we publish alongside a new specification to help illustrate its intended style and structure when a qualification is first launched. We wanted to share the story of our assessment approach with you so when you look through the paper you will find we have pointed out certain features and explained the decisions we have made.

Resources to help support in teaching different areas of content can be found on the Cambridge National in Enterprise and Marketing webpage under 'Planning and teaching'.

Our exam papers are developed with our accessibility principles in mind. The Cambridge Nationals Understanding the assessment: examined and moderated guide tells you a little more about the principles and rationale underpinning our approach for the qualifications. The 'Command Words' are in both the Understanding the assessment guide and the specification. These tell you what we mean by each command word and how students should approach the question and understand its demand.

You said, we did

During the development of this qualification, we talked extensively with teachers, subject experts and our senior assessment teams to influence its structure, content and assessment materials. We then shared our final materials with teachers to make sure that they met the identified needs.

You told us that you wanted the external assessment to be similar to the external assessment in the current Cambridge National in Enterprise and Marketing qualification. We have tried to do this by using a familiar tone and style of questioning.

You told us that you wanted the external assessment to be based on a single scenario, that develops through the assessment, so that's what we've done.

INSTRUCTIONS

- Use black ink.
- Write your answer to each question in the space provided.
- Write your answer to each question in the space provided. If students require additional answer space, lined paper may be available at the end of the answer booklet in a live question paper. Remember the question number(s) must be clearly shown.

INFORMATION

- The total mark for this paper is 70.
- The marks for each question are shown in brackets [].
- This document has 16 pages.

ADVICE

- Read each question carefully before you start your answer.

All students will sit the exam at the same time on the same day.

This exam will always be set and marked by us. Exams will be available in January and June each year. The exam must be taken as terminal assessment. This means that the result from the exam taken in the final assessment series before certification will be the one that counts towards the student's overall grade.

The time allowed is designed to give students approximately one minute per mark.

Each exam will ask at least one question from each Topic Area in the unit.

The exam will always have 70 marks. Section A will have 10 marks and Section B will have 60 marks.

Students can use a calculator in this exam if needed. For example, for Questions 4 and 15.

If students require additional answer space, lined paper will be available at the end of the answer booklet in a live question paper. Remember the question number(s) must be clearly shown.

Section A contains 10 multiple-choice questions.

Students will be asked to use a tick (✓) in the box to show their response.

There will always be four response options for each multiple choice question and these will always be given in alphabetical order. The four response options will consist of the correct answer and three distractors.

Section A

Put a tick (✓) in the box next to the one correct answer for each question.

Each question in this section is worth one mark. Multiple choice questions will test a range of knowledge from across the unit content. They allow us to assess Performance Objective 1 (Recall knowledge and show understanding of enterprise and marketing concepts) that do not require contextual application and Performance Objective 2 (Apply knowledge and understanding of enterprise and marketing concepts) which includes calculation questions.

The number of marks assigned to a question will always be given at the end of the question and will always be right aligned.

Where contexts are given, these will be kept short and will not contain surplus information, not needed for the question.

All Section B questions will relate to a single scenario. The scenario will always be introduced at the start of Section B, and will develop through the section.

Every question will assess one or more Topic Area(s), or a sub-part of a Topic Area.

Short and medium answer responses test knowledge and understanding from across the unit content and allow students the opportunity to give free responses.

- 2.....

Section B contains 9 questions. These will consist of short/medium/longer points-marked questions and one extended answer response marked by levels of response. This allows us to assess the following Performance Objectives:

- PO2 (Apply knowledge and understanding of enterprise and marketing concepts).
- PO3 (Analyse and evaluate knowledge, understanding and performance), although there will be some PO1 (Recall knowledge and show understanding of enterprise and marketing concepts) in many questions.

There will always be a number of medium response questions in Section B.
These will be 3-6 mark questions.

Appendix B in Specification contains a glossary of Command Words which will be used in our exams. The glossary tells you what we mean by each command word.

Sub-content topic areas will be sampled across exam papers, over time.

The number of lines given for a question indicate the approximate length of the answer needed.

- 14 To support the start of your business you have planned some marketing activities.
- Draw a line to link each marketing category to one example of a relevant marketing activity. You should draw four lines in total.

When a question asks for a specific number of points, we will always put numbers or response headings against the answer lines to show where students should write each point of their answer.

Sub-questions will always be displayed as (i) (ii) etc.

- 15 Ensuring that the product is financially viable is important.
- (a) Identify two fixed costs involved with producing your pictures.

Tables provided for information will have the text left aligned and the numbers right aligned.

The break-even quantity is calculated using this formula:

$$\frac{\text{Fixed costs}}{\text{Selling price per unit} - \text{variable cost per unit}}$$

(ii) Calculate the number of pictures that you need to sell to break even in March.

Show your workings.

Answer.....

[3]

When a calculation is needed, we will always provide a box for students to show how they have worked out their answer.

If a student's final answer is correct, full marks will usually be given.

However, some questions specifically state 'Show your workings'. This is so we can assess the process/thinking of the student.

Students can still gain marks in questions that require working to be shown, even if the final answer is incorrect. So, it is good practice to always show working as it may still be possible to score some marks.

16 Your business has traded very successfully for six months. You are now planning to increase your product range by offering three picture sizes. You will need to raise additional capital to support this expansion and have chosen to use crowdfunding.

There will always be one extended response question in Section B of the exam. This will always be an 8-mark question and the last question on the exam.

This is to:

- allow students to build their confidence throughout the exam before they start this question
- prevent students taking too long to complete this question and not leaving enough time for others.
